

Justice, Money & Politics

WHEN: Tuesday, November 18, 2008, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

WHERE: University of Wisconsin Law School, Room 2260

PANEL MEMBERS:

- ❖ Justice Patrick Crooks, Wisconsin Supreme Court
- ❖ Justice Ann Walsh Bradley, Wisconsin Supreme Court
- ❖ Mike McCabe, Executive Director, Wisconsin Democracy Campaign
- ❖ Scott Milfred, Editorial Page Editor, Wisconsin State Journal

After two bitter campaigns, and a likely third in 2009, people in Wisconsin have had enough of the expensive and highly negative election campaigning for our Supreme Court. What will it take to free our courts from recent efforts to make judicial elections partisan? Establishing a voluntary full public funding system for election campaigns of state Supreme Court and other state appellate judges? Appointment through merit selection process?

Come join this important discussion on the new politics of judicial elections in Wisconsin.

The panel will take questions from the audience following their presentation.

Free and open to the public. Coffee and dessert provided by American Constitutional Society at UW Law School.

For more information: David Bonner dlbonner@wisc.edu or Beverly Speer, 608.255.4260 or speer@wisdc.org

SPONSORS:

LEAGUE OF WOMEN
VOTERS® OF WISCONSIN

BLACK LAW STUDENT
ASSOCIATION AT UW

UNITED COUNCIL OF UW STUDENTS

AMERICAN
CONSTITUTION
SOCIETY

